In only one inning could the visitors find Tannehill successfully. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. Attendance, 6,200. Score:

Good for Hickman.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The New Yorks beat the champions in a ten-inning game this afternoon. With one out in the tenth inning, Hickman hammered the ball to deep right for three bases. Seymour, who batted for Bernard, got his base on balls, and Doyle sent Mercer home, the latter running for Hickman, with a neat hit to Jennings, which the latter could not get to McGuire in time to head off Mercer. The game was an interesting one, both pitchers doing good work. Dahlen was pitched out of the game for kicking in the ninth. Score:

BENNETT'S KICK NO GO.

Patsy Gavin Will Referee the Kennedy-Bennett Fight—$2,000 Offered Kennedy to Lay Down—Big Demand for Tickets.

Jack Bennett has objected to Patsy Gavin refereeing the Bennett-Kennedy fight here next Monday night, and has written to that effect to the officials of the Metropolitan Athletic Club. The latter have replied, assuring Bennett that Gavin will give both men a square deal, and that there can be no reasonable objection to him. Gavin, it may be depended upon, will referee the fight.

On Thursday, at Pittsburgh, Eddie Kennedy was approached by a crook and offered $2,000 to lay down to Bennett. Needless to state, Kennedy spurned the offer.

The demand for reserved seats continues brisk. A bunch of twenty went to Parkersburg yesterday, and altogether the day's sales aggregated nearly 100. Reserved tickets are on sale at Halpin's White Front, Winder & Parker's Parlor saloon, Bader & Maurer's and at Oscar Gardner's.

THE BIG FOUR.

Pennsylvania, Harvard, Yale and Princeton Preparing for Their Coming Contests for Foot Ball Supremacy.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—Alvin C. Kraenzlein has reconsidered his decision, and will not play on the University of Pennsylvania foot ball team. His loss will be a severe one for the Quakers, as he was one of the most promising candidates. In explaining his change of base, Kraenzlein said his family strongly objected to him playing.

Ex-Captain John Outland and Pete Overfield have been looking over the candidates. After watching the men at work, Outland said: "Pennsylvania has a fine lot of material. The candidates seem to me the best I have ever seen trying for a Pennsylvania team. A good eleven should be developed." Overfield echoed Outland's words. The big center of last year was especially interested in Horner, the leading candidate for center.

As Horner came on the field, Overfield quickly sized him up, and said: "He's all right. He'll look out for himself." Later on, when he saw the activity and nervous power of the young man Overfield was even more emphatic in thinking the young fellow a very promising man. Overfield picked out Mitchell, Bennett and Johnson as good men.

Flavell, the captain of Pennsylvania's base ball team, will report for practice next week. He was one of the star foot ball players in Intercollegiate circles before entering Pennsylvania, playing guard on the German team eleven. He should make a likely candidate for end or back of the line.

B. W. Frazier is slated as assistant manager of the team, and will be appointed at the meeting of the foot ball committee.

The following are the latest additions to the candidate list. Metzger, of last year's freshman team, and a member of the 1900 track team; Butler, a member of his class team; Allyn, a member of the 1900 Varsity crew; Savino, last year's freshman end, and Bishop, of last year's scrub team. Mulford, a member of the freshman class, who played on Friends' Central team last year, will be out shortly.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 20.—Yale has lost a star athlete. Corbellus Daly has deserted the Blue for Columbia. Daly took his preliminary examinations for Yale a year ago, and wrote friends in this city only two weeks ago that he was coming to New Haven on September 25 for his final examinations.

He has just turned up with the Columbia squad at Branford Point, an illustration of the fact that great athletes, like other great men, change their minds. Manager Hixon, of the Yale team, denied a rumor that either he or any of the officials of the Yale eleven had been to Branford to induce Daly to come to Yale, as was originally intended.

The coaches who were expected here to start in the season with Captain Brown have not yet arrived. Parnon Cutten, the old center rush, who now occupies a New Haven pulpit, was out on the field yesterday afternoon, and helped Captain Brown out with the coaching. Cutten's recent experiments with hypnosis as a cure for inebrates and his belief in this cure have made him a more interesting figure on the gridiron than ever. Captain Brown yesterday afternoon divided the rush line men and the backs into two squads. Hale, last year's center, was placed among the back of the line men. Captain Brown intends to make a half-back or possibly a full back out of him this season if another man can be found to play center.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 20.—A squad of forty odd willing candidates are working hard to make positions on the Tigers' foot ball team. The men put lots of dash and vim in their work, and the appearance of newcomers indicate that the team will not be a weak aggregation.

Brown, a freshman, who comes from a Connecticut school, will try for tackle. He is said to have a fine reputation as a player among the school-boys of the Nutmeg State, and his manner of handling the ball and starting down the field on puts this afternoon, showed that he was no stranger to the game.

Kelly, who tried for end last season, but who was injured early, was out today for the first time. He has lost none of his speed in following the ball down, and Roper must look out or he will lose his place.

The advent of Balliett, the old center, was the signal for the general overhauling of the linemen, and the fact that Alexander Moffatt, Princeton's famous full-back, was present, furnishes ample assurance that the candidates for the back positions were kept busy. Biffy Lea, tackle on the 1895 eleven; Nat Poe, of the 1897 team, and his brother, Arthur, are also on the field. Not one of them, however, would vouchsafe an opinion concerning the result of the canvass, although all agree that the number of big men out is smaller than for a number of years past.

To try for the vacant center, Balliett selected two men from the squad. They are Wright and Hale, both sophomores. The former is a big, muscular fellow, and would make a good man for the position could he overcome his awkwardness. He has had two years' experience on the scrub. Hale, also, has the requisite of a center, but lacks experience. Hodgman and Mattis, the two most promising candidates for full-back, received the pigskin from the center man. Hodgman's punts were higher and carried farther than those of his competitor, but they were easier for the backs to handle.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 20.—Sixteen new candidates have joined the Harvard squad. With the exception of Jim Lawrence, tackle on last year's eleven, and Graydon, tackle on the freshman team last fall, the candidates for line positions were without great promise.

Despite the loss of Reid and Ted Kendall, Harvard is seen to have a wealth of back field material, and it is now painfully apparent that the positions left vacant by Malcolm Donald, Captain Burden and Boal, of last year's eleven, will be those hardest to fill.

The most promising man is I. V. Kendall, who two years ago was the most likely man for one of the back positions, till he injured his shoulder. Jones, a colored freshman from Exeter, also came out. He weighs 170 pounds, and was one of the cleverest tackles in the preparatory schools.

The training tables will not be started until college opens, September 27. I. V. Kendall yesterday state authoritatively that his brother, Teddy Kendall, last year's right half, would not return to college.

AMUSEMENTS.

One of the most novel as well as incomprehensible features in Magician Kellar's programme this year, is a quaint time piece, which is known as the "Hindoo Clock." It was once the property of a famed magician in India and it does all sorts of strange things. It consists solely of a brass dial and one brass hand. Yet it will answer any question that may be asked it. It tells the day of the week upon which you were born, time by your own watch, dates of coins, value and numbers of bank bills, does sums in arithmetic, etc., etc. It is but an item, however, in a long series of surprises that Kellar will offer when he comes to the Opera House Wednesday, September 26.

"King Rastus."

If you wish to spend an evening of rare enjoyment that comes but once a year, see the elegant entertainment given at the Opera House Monday and Tuesday, September 24 and 25, when Isham "King Rastus" company, with such famous favorites as Billy Keranda, Smart & Williams, Mallory Bros. & Brooks and thirty others. "King Rastus" has proved to be one big novelty of the season, and flattering reports are heard from everywhere.

everywhere fully attest. This splendid dramatic organization comes to the Grand Opera House for an engagement of a solid week, commencing next Monday night, when Sol Smith Russell's great success, "The Peaceful Valley," will be presented, with high class specialties between acts. Daily matinees will be given, commencing Tuesday.

"A Rag-Time Reception."

This merry skit opened an engagement at the Grand last night, and will be on the boards during the remainder of the week. It is a laughable farce in three acts, which the author has very appropriately designated as "Waking 'em up," "Mixing 'em up," and "Fixing 'em up." The plot is neither intricate nor deep, but it holds together a pot-pourri of musical numbers and specialties which follow each other in quick succession and enliven the action, so that the audience is alternately laughing and applauding. "A Rag Time Reception" made a big hit last night.

Price of Tin Plate Reduced.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The American Tin Plate Company to-day reduced the price of tin plates for delivery over the last quarter of 1900, by 65 cents per box as compared with the price heretofore maintained. MARTIN'S FERRY NEWS.

The Daily Chronicle of Wheeling's Progressive Neighbor.

One judging from reading the article in yesterday's issue of the Register that there were a good many sore heads among members of the Republican party in this city, caused from various things, as the paper asserts. Union and harmony were never more pronounced among the rank and file of the party than in this fight. It goes on to say that the soliciting committees at work to raise funds to defray campaign expenses are not meeting with success, which the writer knew was a lie at the time. The merchants are responding liberally as they always do, and all the clubs are in excellent shape, financially. The idea of the soliciting committee working hard to try and induce Democrats to help them out! What absurdity!
